Several letters have been received by parents of the local boys, among them Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Lee of Chapman street and Mrs. Mary Welch of Jackson street. Sergeant Lee says that the trip was uneventful in the submarine line, although fire and submarine drills were held every day on board. Many of the local boys were seasick but they are all in good shape now. The transport was convoyed by several warshipd and at the time of writing, was anchored in a certain harbor. to shut down for a period of two weeks. No statement is forthcoming from the management, and the people of the borough sincerely hope that the shut-down will not be lengthened. There seems to be plenty of work laid out for a large force of men for a long period, as the keel has been laid for a vessel, and there is much remodeling and repair work in sight. Several carloads of timber and lumber are on the tracks unloaded. It is said that a scarcity of ready money is the cause for the shutdown. More than fifty of the workmen were discharged, Friday.

A football game is booked for Stan. It ton park, this (Saturday) afternoon between teams of the Stonington High school and Norwich Free Academy.

Mrs. John Modress and family have moved to busy Bridgeport. The fair this year was a great suc-cess, the committee worked bard to bring about this result. M. Gennadius, the Greek minister, has contributed 25 pounds to the man-sion house fund for the relief of the War Prices Are High BECAUSE War Costs Are High

Unless the butcher could get for his meat more money than the meat costs him, he would have to stop selling meat. His customers understand this, they know his high costs, and they pay his high prices without grudge against him, realizing that his predicament is identical with their own. The struggle with us all is to get money enough to cover our heavy bills of expense.

The street railroad rates of Eastern Connecticut are about to be increased as a matter of public necessity.

STREET RAILROAD, TRANSPORTATION is as VITAL TO THE COMMU-NITY as the railroad and the telephone. Without it business would be paralyzed.

STREET RAILROAD TRANSPORTATION CANNOT BE MAINTAINED EXCEPT AS ITS REVENUES MEET ITS COSTS.

STREET RAILROAD TRANSPORTATION COSTS HAVE BECOME PRO-HIBITIVE on the basis of former revenues. THIS CONDITION IS TRUE EVERY-WHERE and it cannot be altered by change of ownership or management. It has created a street railroad crisis as desperate in NEW YORK. MASSACHUSETTS and PENNSYLVANIA as it has in Connecticut. THE MOVEMENT TOWARD IN-CREASE OF RATES IS A UNIVERSAL ONE.

In two years the operating cost of our street railroads has increased more than 30 per cent.

The cost of supplies has doubled.

Overhead charges have increased. Taxes have increased. Labor costs have increased. Every enumerable item of costs has startlingly increased.

EXISTING REVENUES ARE HOPELESSLY INADEQUATE. STREET RAILWAY CREDIT IS SADLY IMPERILLED.

Continuation of this disparity between costs and revenues means the quick collapse of street railroad transportation. SERVICE, ALREADY SERIOUSLY IM-PAIRED BY THE TASK OF HAULING PEAK LOADS WITH INSUFFICIENT FA-CILITIES OF POWER AND CARS AND MEN must come to calamitous breakdown, replacing deplorable inconvenience with downright hardship. Upon Eastern Connecticut there would be forced a ruinous decade of BUSINESS AND SOCIAL DISAD-VANTAGE out of which there could be but SLOW, PAINFUL AND MOST COSTLY EMERGENCE through any means of restoration imaginable.

THE TRUTH OF THESE STATEMENTS IS INCONTROVERTIBLY EVI-DENCED by the books of our railways, and the figures of street railroad transporta-tion, frankly open to any reasonable inquiry.

During the night I lay with another portance to the failings of men, who, company have cleared out of have nev-after all, may be only the weaklings er come into line at all. The only most to get out of the way and quite right, too. Life is precious. Bations will last till tomorrow morning. When there is nothing left to eat I shall go is best who gets a builet and does not need to knock around any longer. The Englishman blows everything to bits that he can see, and bombards all the ground up to 10 or 15 kilometres (about 8 to 9 1-2 miles) behind the front line.

We are now in the front line, which we are now in the front line, which is better than the third line, because Bavarians deserted at Arras.

The situation is melancholy. Our company have suffered heavy losses during the one day we have been here. We are in a support trench a few hundred metres behind the front line. The English shell the entire area incessantly with the heaviest guns, and the ground is one mass of shell-holes, some large enough to build knows that he has a place awaiting
